

Discovery STS-128

THE CREW:

Space shuttle Discovery's STS-128 mission crew members, from left, are, Mission Specialist Jose Hernandez, Pilot Kevin Ford, Mission Specialists John "Danny" Olivas and Nicole Stott, European Space Agency astronaut Christer Fuglesang, Commander Rick Sturckow, and Mission Specialist Patrick Forrester.

During the 13-day mission, Stott will transfer to the International Space Station to replace Tim Kopra as Expedition 20 flight engineer. Kopra will return home aboard Discovery.

THE MISSION:

During Discovery's STS-128 mission, the seven-member crew will deliver the Multi-Purpose Logistics Module Leonardo, containing life support and science racks, as well as the Colbert treadmill. They also will deliver a Lightweight Multi-Purpose Experiment Support Structure Carrier, or LMC, to the station.

STS-128 is Discovery's 37th mission, the 128th space shuttle flight, and the 30th mission to the station.
